

Social Security Office Will Add Evening Hours

Special evening hours have been added at the Torrance Social Security District Office, Miles A. Davis, district manager, announced today. Davis said the office would remain open from 5:30 until 8:30 each Wednesday evening during the next several months. The service, he said, is an added convenience to the Southwest area residents served by the office. Normal hours are 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. each Monday through Friday, Davis added.

NUMEROUS residents of the area should contact the Torrance office in order to take advantage of the health insurance provisions of the 1965 amendments to the Social Security program, Davis said. Other major changes also will require some persons to contact the office, he added.

Three major groups of people should contact the office. They include:

- Persons now 65 or older who are not now entitled to social security benefits because they are working full-time.

- Widows now 60 or 61 who will become eligible for benefits at age 62.
- Unmarried students 18 to 22 years of age whose benefits have been stopped or students nearing their 18th birthday who are collecting benefits and who plan to continue their schooling.

IN EACH case, Davis said, changes in the social security law have been made which may qualify persons not now eligible for benefits to collect cash benefits or benefits in a reduced amount. Widows may now apply for benefits at 60 years of age if they wish to accept a reduced amount, while students dropped from the social security rolls who were under 22 in January, 1965, may be eligible to back benefits. Complete information about the changes in the social security program may be obtained from the Torrance office, 1408 Crenshaw Blvd., or by telephoning 320-4020.

Three Harbor Area Schools Set Anti-Poverty Programs

Extended day school and Saturday classes have been scheduled at three Harbor area elementary schools in the Los Angeles School System, Superintendent of Schools Jack P. Crowther said today.

The special classes will be offered at Hawaiian Avenue, Normont, and Wilmington Park Schools. The extended day classes are for remedial work in reading and will meet for 30 minutes before or after school, Crowther said.

Saturday classes at the three schools will emphasize remedial reading, arithmetic improvement, and language arts. Children will be selected by teachers. Both the projects are part of the anti-poverty program under the Economic Opportunity Act. They will be partially financed with federal funds. In addition to the school programs, Crowther said a home management class for low-income housewives will be conducted at Normont Terrace, 25538 Dobbie Ave., Harbor City.

Freeway Area Tract Approved

Plans for a 28-lot subdivision in the Carson area have been approved by the Regional Planning Commission. The lots will be located south of Torrance Boulevard adjacent to the Harbor Freeway. Owner Dan E. Butcher of 2371 Torrance Blvd. presented the plans.

ZORAN SAJOVIC
Pep Boys Scholar

Four-Year Grant Won By Youth

Zoran Sajovic of Atascadero, Calif., has been selected to receive the 13th annual Pep Boys four-year engineering scholarship, Murray Rosenfeld, executive vice president and general manager of the Pep Boys Auto Supply Stores, announced today. Sajovic will attend California State Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo. The scholarship provides tuition, books, and supplies at any California state college or university.

An honor student at Chino High School, Sajovic was graduated last June.

He received the award from Dave Gary, secretary of the Pep Boys' stores, in an awards ceremony at general offices in Los Angeles. Joseph Kaplan, general manager of the Los Angeles chapter of the National Safety Council, participated.

Award of the scholarship is based on scholastic standing, scores on an engineering aptitude test, and an essay on traffic safety.

Plans are now being made for the 1966 Pep Boys Scholarship, according to Rosenfeld.
